CONGRESSMAN COMES
HERE FOR ONE NIGHT

ENORMOUS ATTENDANCE IS LOOKED FOR

TO HEAR ADDRESS

Hon. J. Thomas Hefflin Will Prove
Drawing Card When He Speaks at Frazier Fitting School.

It is doubtful if Anderson people ever showed more interest in an address in this city than is being manifested over the appearance of the Hon. J. Thomas Hefflin of Alabama. Mr. Hefflin will come to Anderson next Monday and will speak Monday night in the auditorium of the Frazier Fitting School on West Whitner street. It is understood that the seat sale for this attraction has already been very large and that there is an increasing demand daily for tickets.

Congressman Hefflin and Dr. W. H. Frazier, headmaster of the Frazier Fitting School, were schoolmates and they have always been intimate friends. Therefore when the Alabama man made his preparations to come to South Carolina this year he placed his itinerary in Dr. Frazier's hands and gave the Anderson man full authority to attend to the booking in this State. Dr. Frazier has made a number of engagements all over South Carolina for the distinguished speaker and Anderson will mark the opening of a two weeks tour through South Carolina.

"When Knighthood was in Flower in the South" will be Mr. Hefflin's topic when he comes to this city and the address has been pronounced as being magnificent by those who have heard it delivered. This will be a genuine treat for Anderson and one that all the people in the city will appreciate.

Tom Hefflin certainly should be "Alabama's Pride!" Big, robust, and full of energy, a high power oratorical gun of rapid fire calibre, shelling the Republican fortifications, which slugs like powder before his onslaught, he must assuredly be the most entertaining speaker that ever addressed a Salisbury audience. As a relater of anecdotes, in an entertaining style, Mr. Hefflin is superb and he was loaded with these last night. His peroration was a gem, a glittering diamond, something to touch the enthusiastic chord in every human heart, to thrill and charm the mind of his hearers. As an orator, a word picture painter, and entertainer, a deliver into facts and figures, a student of history, and an all around speaker there is no superior and few equals to the Hon. J. Thomas Hefflin of the State of Alabama—Salisbury (N. C.) Evening Post.

L. J. P. Neff, of Richmond, Virginia, in a letter to a friend said:

The people on the streets of Fredericksburg are talking of nothing but Hefflin's speech delivered here last night. Lawyers and professional men who have heard Polk, Miller and Bab Taylor say that Hefflin is far superior to them, that he is the best story teller they ever heard, that his language is the most beautiful and they pronounced his speech the finest ever delivered in Fredericksburg.

"He has an impressive personality, a fine resonant voice, and in some respects, reminds one of Bryan. But the attribute that shines more distinctly and brilliantly than any other in this man's character, is that of sincerity. He told stories that nearly drove the assembly into convulsions but these would be followed by poignant appeals to their sense of justice and their love of country.—Dayton (Ohio) Daily News.

Put on Brakes—Stop—Whoo, Mule! Congressman Hefflin makes a decided hit with the crowd. Dramatic in manner and personality, the speaker was both eloquent and able in his presentation. His smiles were striking, and altogether his message was delivered in masterly style.—Savannah (Ga.) News.

Hon. James Thomas Hefflin of Alabama is an orator of rare ability. Mr. Hefflin is more than that—he is a man of magnetic personality, a man of striking appearance, big, broad-shouldered and genial, an entertaining talker and a born story teller.—Florida Times-Union, Jacksonville.

Congressman Hefflin is a wonder as a political speaker, and since his Atlanta speech he has been in great demand all over the State.—Constitution, Atlanta, Georgia.

Hefflin is a strong man, mentally, morally and physically. He is the most genial of men and could away anecdotes with Doctor Knott himself. There is a deal of the poet in the man, and his apostrophe to the cotton plant, as it had appeared in a book instead of a speech in Congress would be classic. Every Alabama school-boy ought to memorize it. How Southern Tom Hefflin is. An oak plant can't beat him. He is an native to the soil as the fig—Savannah in Nashville (Tenn.) Banner.

Representative Hefflin is one of the most attractive and eloquent speakers in Congress. Rarely fitted as a story teller and a master of the use of beautiful and trenchant English, he never speaks but to please.—The News and Observer, Raleigh, N. C.

Mr. Hefflin is one of the greatest orators in the House. When he rises to speak he is always given the closest attention. He has a strong voluminous voice, most pleasing to the ear. His ability as a speaker needs no encomiums to the people of Alabama and it is sufficient to say if Tom Hefflin sits on the floor of the Baltimore convention a vote Oscar Underwood in nomination he'll do it in a manner that will curl their hair.—Age-Herald, Birmingham, Ala.

Congressman Hefflin as a public speaker is both entertaining and instructive. He is one of the most effective orators in Congress.—Wm. J. Bryson, Secretary of Senate.

As an orator and entertaining story teller, Tom Hefflin has no equal.—Senator Ollie M. James, Kentucky.

MRS. MCGOWAN
NOT GUILTY

On Trial for the Murder of J.
Leroy Brown—Unwritten Law
Was Chief Defense.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Florence McGowan tonight was found not guilty in the circuit court here of the charge of having murdered J. Leroy Brown, of this city. The judge's instructions to the jury held that the defendant was shown by the evidence to have committed murder. Spectators in the court room cheered the jury verdict.

The "unwritten law" was the chief defense of the accused, who was the first white woman to be tried here for murder. She shot and killed Brown about two months ago in the court room in which her trial was held. The motive given for the killing by the defense was that Brown had wronged Mrs. McGowan's daughter. The latter is fifteen years old. Brown was 21. The jury considered the evidence six hours before arriving at a verdict. Nine jurymen are said to have voted for acquittal and three for manslaughter on the first ballot. Mrs. McGowan resides in Mobile, Ala.

American Horses in Battle. The American horse is one of the first to answer the bugle call of the European war. Representatives of many foreign governments are in this country purchasing horses for the various armies of the warring nations and practically every State in the Union is contributing cavalry material to the belligerent factions.

The American horse is a utility animal and excels that of any other country on the face of the earth. He has plowed our fields, fought our battles and is the most faithful of animal kind. His reputation has extended to other countries and he is now going to perform the services for foreign countries which he has so faithfully fulfilled at home.

In Dire Distress. (By Associated Press.) LONDON, Nov. 5. (7:30 p. m.)—The population of southern Poland, whose villages and lands have been devastated by the march and counter march of Russian and German forces since the beginning of the war, are in dire distress, according to a report today from Professor Bernard Beres, the British Government's representative at Russian headquarters.

NEGRO HIGHWAYMAN
HAS BEEN ARRESTED

LONG WANTED BY THE PO-LICE FORCE

ASSAULTED WOMAN

Struck Negroess Over the Head
With a Rock Wednesday Night,
Rendering Her Unconscious

Maybe every pitcher going to the well makes one trip too much. Anyway Floyd Rucker, a negro, attempted to hold up one woman too many. For weeks the police department has been receiving complaints of hold-ups occurring near the Anderson Mattress Factory but until yesterday they had never been able to lay their hands upon a suspect in this case.

Late Wednesday night, or rather at an early hour yesterday morning it was reported to the police that a woman had been brutally assaulted at this same place of the outlaw and a hurried investigation on the part of the patrolmen revealed the fact that a negro woman, Millie James, by the name, had been struck in the back of the head with a rock and rendered unconscious. At that time the woman could give no coherent account of how she sustained the injury but after she was revived and received medical attention she told of how some one had jumped from the clump of bushes on one side of East Market street and had struck her down before she could cry out. However, she had time to recognize her assailant and reported to the police that the highwayman was Floyd Rucker, a negro well known around town.

All the patrolmen were advised yesterday morning to be on the lookout for Rucker and shortly before noon he was taken in charge by Patrolman Whitten and placed in jail. He will be given a hearing this morning and it will be attempted to show that he not only committed this one particular crime but that he figured in several exploits of a like nature.

It is a well known fact that numbers of people have been molested at this particular point on Market street and that many of them have been roughly handled and relieved of their valuables. However, proving that Rucker did really participate in all these affairs may be a somewhat difficult job for the sleuths on the police force.

When the case of Marion Eskew, charged with selling, was reached on the docket, the attorneys in the case consented for the trial to proceed without a jury and judgment left in the hands of Recorder Russell. This case was begun without the defendant being present and it is now believed that he had jumped his bond of $400 and is in the State of Georgia.

Eskew's trial differed but little from those of the last few days. Detectives Wiggins, Jones and Baxter all testified, the defense offered no witnesses and the recorder adjudged the defendant guilty. On account of the fact that the defendant can not be located, no sentence was passed in this case.

The trial of Breazeale differed in no particular from that of Eskew, except for the fact that Breazeale, is charged with aiding and abetting in conduct—a place where alcoholic liquors are sold and is also charged with selling. One of the principal points against him is that the police

LIQUOR TRIALS STILL HAVE SAME RESULTS

TWO CONVICTIONS YESTER-DAY IN POLICE COURT

WORK CONTINUES

Claude Breazeale and Marion
Eskew Both Found Guilty
When Tried By Recorder.

The same story practically was told yesterday in the trials of those charged with violating the liquor laws of the city and State. Yesterday the cases to be tried at this time were heard on this charge in recorder's court and both the defendants were found guilty.

When the case of Marion Eskew, charged with selling, was reached on the docket, the attorneys in the case consented for the trial to proceed without a jury and judgment left in the hands of Recorder Russell. This case was begun without the defendant being present and it is now believed that he had jumped his bond of $400 and is in the State of Georgia.

Eskew's trial differed but little from those of the last few days. Detectives Wiggins, Jones and Baxter all testified, the defense offered no witnesses and the recorder adjudged the defendant guilty. On account of the fact that the defendant can not be located, no sentence was passed in this case.

The trial of Breazeale differed in no particular from that of Eskew, except for the fact that Breazeale, is charged with aiding and abetting in conduct—a place where alcoholic liquors are sold and is also charged with selling. One of the principal points against him is that the police have from time to time seized several hundred pints of whiskey consigned to Breazeale.

In his case the same witnesses testified and this case went the way of the rest, resulting in a verdict of guilty. The defendant was brought into court and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or to serve 30 days on the street work. The city attorney consented to Breazeale paying a fine of $100, holding the sentence in record case, in which he was also convicted, in suspense.

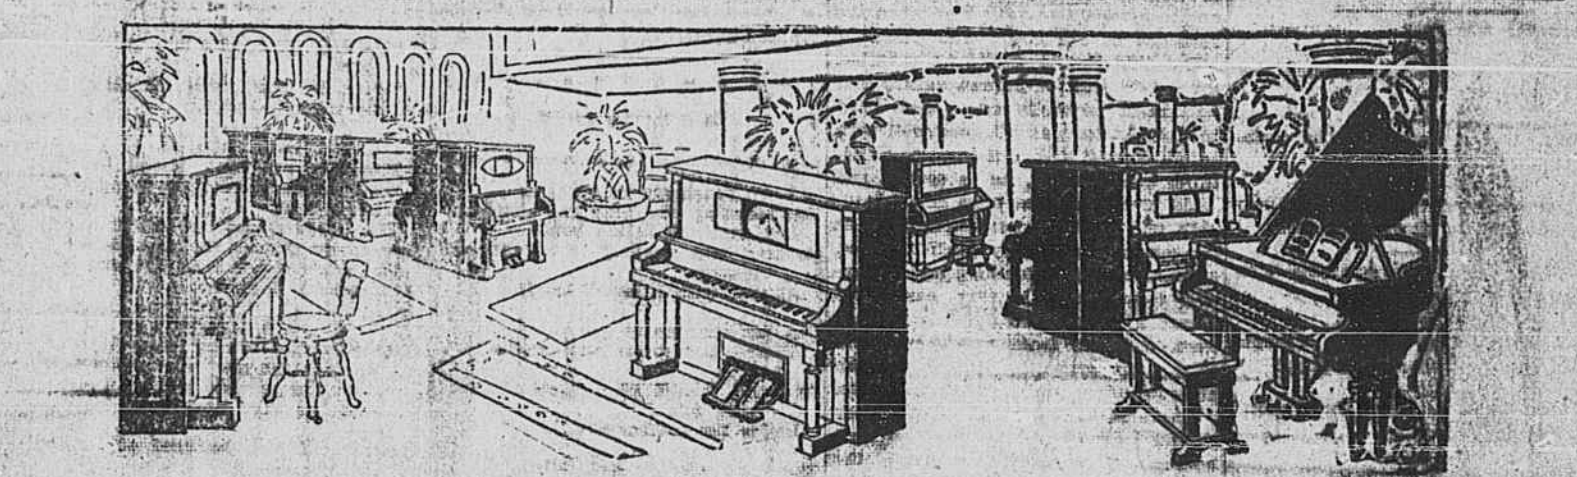

The other liquor cases have been continued until a later date, the detectives leaving last night for Atlanta.

Later in the afternoon, Breazeale paid his fine of $100 in this case and in the second case against him on the same charge he was fined $100 or 30 days, but the sentence was suspended during good behavior and he was released.

OPENING
Thursday, Friday and Saturday

We beg to announce that on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 5, 6, and 7th, we will open our place at No. 130 West Benson Street to the public and YOU are Cordially invited to come in and see the beautiful line of magnificent pianos and organs we have on display.

Whether you contemplate the purchase of a piano or organ, or not, we wish you to call and pay us a visit; your mere presence will add pleasure to the occasion, and we sincerely hope that you will call Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

The opening of this Piano and Organ store will be an innovation for Anderson, for the reason that WE PURCHASE OUTRIGHT all pianos and organs carried in stock, PAYING SPOT CASH for them—hence our ability to sell them MUCH CHEAPER than the "other fellow."

If you are a music lover we extend you a Special invitation to call, see and hear these Beautiful instruments—THEY ARE AMONG THE BEST manufactured anywhere by anybody; and REMEMBER that we are going to sell Pianos and Organs CHEAPER than they have EVER BEEN SOLD in South Carolina.

You Are Most Cordially Invited To Come.
